The Murders on the Cascades and in Tygh Valley

DALLES, Aug. 20, 1861.

EDITOR [illegible]: As there [illegible] the highest [illegible] what has transpired [illegible] near the [illegible] Valley [illegible] One of the bodies [illegible] Tygh [illegible] Capt. Wilkes [illegible] the Grand [illegible] of the following summary of the [illegible] of the Coroner's Jury [illegible] then [illegible] together were [illegible] the Willamette Valley [illegible] be a Californian.

At the inquest held over the bodies found at Barlow's Gate the Jury found that the persons came to their death by violence on or about the 1st of August, or last of July 1861. One of the [illegible] supposed was about fifty years old [illegible] inches high; brown hair intermixed with grey—nearly half grey. Had on his body a black [illegible] coat, outside shirt pink calico, inside shirt red woolen, green vest with brown stripe, made of [illegible] goods, with velvet collar; grey pants; drawers made of bed ticking, No. 10 [illegible] shoes, and suspenders also made of bed ticking. The other person was supposed to be about twenty years of age, with brown hair; five feet eight or ten inches high; had on a red woolen shirt outside and under-shirt of pink calico; suspenders of bed ticking; black vest with brass ball buttons; white duck pants and [illegible] drawers; homemade woolen socks [illegible] one white, the other blue. The bodies were so much decayed that no very satisfactory description was given of the wounds on [illegible] the under jaw of the older body was broken in several places and the neck bone was broken or cut. The body appeared to be [illegible] or cut in several places; one tooth broken out of the upper jaw, and one tooth [illegible] as though it had been [illegible] some time. The right side of the under jaw of the younger body was broken either by a pistol or gun ball or from a blow from some blunt instrument [illegible] skull was broken in one place, and [illegible] on the chin.

In the vicinity of the bodies, in the creek, were found a small tent, made of white drilling [illegible] with some flour in it [illegible] small sack of salt, one frying pan No. 4, with lid, two large iron spoons with holes in the handle [illegible] the other [illegible] black [illegible] both [illegible] clothes [illegible] There was blood on both the hats [illegible] the tent and the blanket [illegible] on it [illegible]

By whom [illegible] the [illegible] was done [illegible] the Jurors cannot determine.

[illegible] Coroner.
Jonathan [illegible] A. M. [illegible] Thomas Jordan [illegible] Herbert [illegible]

[illegible] the body found at Tygh Valley the Jury found that [illegible] The body was so far decayed that it was impossible to describe it satisfactorily. He was about medium size [illegible] auburn hair [illegible] rather [illegible] about thirty years of age; had on buck [illegible] shirt with two breast pockets [illegible] pants No. [illegible] boots with [illegible] It is the opinion of the Jury that the person was murdered [illegible] about the [illegible] August 1861.

The Jury were the same as at Barlow's Gate. The above inquest was held on the 12th and the one at Barlow's Gate on the [illegible] August.

There continue to be all sorts of rumors about the hostile designs of the Indians, but generally having no foundation. The Indians that are in custody admit that they were [illegible] to get money to buy whisky with. The only speck of war with Indians that shows itself [illegible] is in the negotiations that have been for some time [illegible] going on between about thirty [illegible] Nez Perces warriors and the Snakes. [illegible] gives it as his opinion that there will be a [illegible] formed between the two [illegible] tribes and that they will [illegible] settlements; and that for that purpose [illegible] have removed their stock [illegible] The arrangement between the [illegible] tribes is not yet perfected [illegible] further talk. There [illegible] determined upon this fall, and whether there is or not the fact must [illegible] any blow is struck [illegible] don't [illegible] Indian hostilities yet.

Yours, [illegible] J. S. R.

The Brandon (Miss.) Republican says that one-half of the papers published in that State have been discontinued through the want of money to carry them on.

CONFEDERATES RAISING THE WIND.—Says the Louisville Courier:

The Arkansas Convention, during the late [illegible] adopted an ordinance to provide revenue for the State, wherein, among other things, it is provided that two millions of dollars in bonds shall be issued in sums of five dollars and upwards. To redeem these, the [illegible] lands of the State, of which there are at least seventeen millions of acres, as well as the taxes of the State, are pledged. "This secures them from any future repudiation, or even control by the Legislature. These bonds will be receivable in payment for lands (and [illegible] part payment for taxes."

This is only one more illustration of the desperate financial schemes resorted to by the rebellious usurpers of the South to keep their heads above water. Five Dollar State Bonds! Five dollar shin plasters, secured by wild lands which the State doesn't own a foot of! And this secures them from repudiation! Blessed and significant security! It needed that saving clause to testify to all and sundry that Arkansas couldn't repudiate these bonds if she would. She would be sure to try it if there was any hope of succeeding.

And this is called "providing revenue for the State." On the same free and easy principle, Mr. Jefferson Brick, or any other hard up gentleman of aspiring disposition, might issue his "bonds," of the denomination of five dollars and upwards, secured by a pledge of his estates in the moon or his castles in Spain. This is an elegant method of raising a revenue. Arkansas can steal herself rich at this rate even without exercising the sublime virtue of repudiation.—Louisville Journal.

FRIDAY MORNING, AUGUST 23, 1861.

Mr. Everett's Oration.

Mr. Everett delivered an address in New York city, on the Fourth of July last, in which he discussed the causes of the present contest now progressing in the United States, showing its justice on the part of the Government, and the fallacy of the arguments employed by the South to justify the war they had waged upon it; detailing facts in the rise and progress of sectional animosity; refuting the charge that the United States Government is sectional and tyrannical; denying the allegation that the General Government has been wielded by the North for its own benefit, and stating the fact that out of seventy-two years the South has had an Executive of its own preference in the Presidential Chair sixty-four; affirming the insufficiency of the alleged causes for Secession—the escape of slaves, fishing bounties, navigation laws, the tariff, &c.—Mr. Everett gives interesting facts about the introduction of cotton; alludes to the former opposition of the South to slavery, and says of all the measures complained of by Mr. Davis in his Message to the Confederate States, "not one is a matter of Congressional legislation, nor has Congress, with this alleged controlling voice on the part of the North, ever either passed a law hostile to the interests of the South, on the subject of slavery, nor failed to pass one which the South has claimed as belonging to her rights or needed for her safety. In truth, the anti-slavery North never has had the control of both houses of Congress, never of the Judiciary, rarely of the Executive, and never exerted these to the prejudice of Southern rights. Every judicial or legislative issue on this question, with the single exception of the final admission of Kansas, that has ever been raised before Congress, has been decided in favor of the South, and yet she allows herself to allege 'a persistent and organized system of hostile measures against the rights of the owners of slaves' as the justification of her rebellion." Mr. Everett then gives a history of the three-fifths slave vote, the manner in which it has unexpectedly inured to the especial advantage of the South, &c., and passes to the consideration of the objections to recognizing the seceding States:

"What are we to hope from such a course? Peace is the very last thing, which Secession, if recognized, will give us. It will give us nothing but a hollow truce—time to prepare the means for new outrages. It is in its very nature a perpetual cause of hostility; an eternal, never-cancelled letter of marque and reprisal, an everlasting proclamation of border-war. How can peace exist, when all the causes of dissension are indefinitely multiplied; when unequal revenue laws shall have led to a gigantic system of smuggling, when a general stampede of slaves shall take place along the border, with no thought of rendition, and all the thousand causes of mutual irritation shall be called into action, on a frontier of 1500 miles not marked by natural boundaries, and not subject to a common jurisdiction or a mediating power? We did believe in peace; fondly, credulously, believed, that, cemented by the mild umpirage of the Federal Union, it might dwell forever beneath the folds of the Star Spangled Banner and the sacred shield of a common Nationality. From that dream we have been rudely startled by the array of ten thousand armed men in Charleston Harbor, and the roar of eleven batteries raining a storm of iron-hail on one poor seige-worn company, because, in obedience to lawful authority, in the performance of sworn duty, the gallant Anderson resolved to keep his oath. That brave and faithful band, by remaining at their post, did not hurt a hair of the head of a Carolinian, bond or free. The United States proposed not to re-enforce but to feed them. But the Confederate leaders would not allow them even the poor boon of being starved into surrender; and because some laws had been passed somewhere, by which it was alleged that the return of some slaves (not one from South Carolina) had been or might be obstructed, South Carolina, disclaiming the protection of Courts and of Congress, which had never been withheld from her, has inaugurated a civil war.

"If a Southern Confederacy is recognized, it becomes a foreign power, established along a curiously dove-tailed frontier of 1500 miles, commanding some of the most important commercial and military positions and lines of communication for travel and trade; half of the sea-coast of the Union; the navigation of our Mediterranean Sea (the Gulf of Mexico, one third as large as the Mediterranean Sea of Europe), and above all, the great arterial inlet to the heart of this continent, through which its very life-blood pours its imperial tides. I say we are coolly summoned to surrender all this to a Foreign Power. Would we surrender it to England, to France or to Spain? Not an inch of it; why then to the Southern Confederacy? Would any other government on earth, unless compelled by the direst necessity, make such a surrender?"

The oration of Mr. Everett scatters all the sophistical reasoning that secession writers expend upon this question of secession. We would if we had room make longer extracts from its conclusive statements of facts and argument. Mr. Everett closes as follows:

"Such, Fellow-Citizens, as I contemplate them, are the great issues before the country, nothing less, in a word, than whether the work of our Noble Fathers of the Revolutionary and Constitutional age shall perish or endure; —whether this great experiment of National polity, which binds a family of free Republics in one United Government—the most hopeful plan, for combining the hundred blessings of a small State with the stability and power of great empire,—shall be treacherously and shamefully stricken down, in the moment of its most successful operation; or, whether it shall be bravely, patriotically, triumphantly maintained. We wage no war of conquest or subjugation; we aim at nothing but to protect our loyal fellow citizens, who, against fearful odds, are fighting the battles of the Union in the disaffected States, and to reestablish, not for ourselves alone, but for our misguided brethren, the mild sway of the Constitution and the laws. The result cannot be doubted. Twenty millions of freemen, forgetting their divisions, are rallying as one man in support of the righteous cause, —their willing hands and their strong hearts, their fortunes and their lives, are laid upon the altar of the country. We contend for the great inheritance of constitutional freedom transmitted from our revolutionary fathers. We engage in the struggle forced upon us, with sorrow, as against our misguided brethren, but with high heart and faith, as we war for that Union which our sainted Washington commended to our dearest affections. The sympathy of the civilized world is on our side, and will join us in prayers to Heaven for the success of our arms."

THE INDIAN MURDERS.—The Mountaineer states that Capt. Whittlesey, with a detachment of twenty-five dragoons, proceeded to Tygh Valley on Wednesday last, and succeeded in capturing three Indians implicated in the late murders. The captives were brought in, and are now confined in the guard house. Some two or three other Indians who had a hand in these murders are still at large, but the Chief has sent for them, and their arrest is almost certain.

Mr. Logan, the Indian Agent for Warm Spring Reservation, accompanied by Colonel Dennison, and an escort of dragoons, has gone to the Warm Spring Reservation, for the purpose of taking measures to prevent any further bloodshed on the part of the Indians belonging to the Reserve.

WRATH OF THE IRISH AT THE REBEL ATROCITIES.—Nothing can come up to the excitement which has been produced among the Irish population in the Eastern States, and especially in the city of New York, by the recital of the outrages that were wreaked by the rebels at Manassas upon the wounded and dead of Corcoran's regiment. A terrible retaliation is in store for these savages, to be poured out upon them when they next meet these Irish upon the field of battle. Subjoined is a copy of an appeal to Irishmen, which was gotten up by some of the members of the 69th Reserve, and posted about New York:

"ERIN GO BRAGH."

IRISHMEN:—Haggerty must be avenged. Our gallant countrymen of the immortal 69th have covered themselves with imperishable glory. They themselves not only heroes, but Christian men—as generous to wounded foes and prisoners as they were invincible in battle. But how were they treated by the barbarous enemy? Let the fate of the gallant Captain Haggerty, who, lying wounded on the field, rendered immortal by the heroic deeds of the 69th, had his throat cut from ear to ear by a dastard rebel hand, attest. Irishmen, the heroic Corcoran is in the power of these cut-throats! Shall he meet with such a fate as that dealt out by the rebels on his brave comrade in arms? Forbid it, genius of Erin! The grass would wither on the tortured bosom of our green Mother Isle, should we permit it. Sons of Erin! countrymen of Corcoran, to arms! Let there be 10,000 Irishmen on the south bank of the Potomac in twenty days, their battle-cry being—Corcoran, Rescued if living, Avenged if dead.

Mr. Parkinson, the mail contractor for the Sound, has made arrangements for a fine steamer at San Francisco, to carry the mails.

Details of Eastern News.

THE REAL CONDITION OF THINGS IN THE SOUTH.—A mechanic who recently returned from Montgomery, Alabama, to New York, asserts that the wealthy planters and other prominent men in Alabama will rank themselves on the winning side; that they already begin to regard the chances of rebellion as hopeless; that the enforcement of the blockade of the Southern ports has disgusted them for the reason that cotton cannot be shipped nor provisions brought in, and that they are ready willing to [illegible] to the Government, requiring only the presence and protection of a force of federal troops to shake off the tyranny of the rebel leaders. They see that the rebellion must eventually be crushed, and that so long as Davis and his fellow-conspirators are permitted to hold the South under the reign of terrorism, business must languish and the rebel's fate drift towards ruin.

COL. WADE HAMPTON.—Among the rebels reported to be killed at Bull's Run, is Colonel Wade Hampton, of South Carolina. He belonged to one of the oldest families of the State, was perhaps the richest planter in the South, and owned the greatest number of slaves. His father, also Wade Hampton, was a Revolutionary officer, serving under Sumter and Marion, a representative of South Carolina for four years, and a Brigadier-General at New Orleans from 1809 to 1812, when, on account of his incessant quarrels with his staff, he was superseded by Wilkinson. His hatred of Wilkinson caused one of the most shameful [illegible] of the last war, led his forces into winter quarters at Plattsburg, and thus defeated the proposed capture of Montreal at the moment of its most brilliant chances. With the laurels of this glorious act, and the [illegible] wrath of Scott pledged to him, he returned to South Carolina and spent the rest of his life in improving an estate adorned by three thousand negroes, and yielding an annual cotton crop of $150,000. The younger Wade Hampton has inherited his father's lands, negroes, cotton, turbulent hatred to good government, and now, if report be true, the fulfilled legacy of General Scott's and America's just indignation.

A brother of Col. Hampton suffered an awful death in Charleston, many years ago. He was in a drunken spree, and while at a hotel one evening, in a spirit of bravado, he champed up a glass tumbler and swallowed the pieces. His death followed almost immediately, accompanied by the most terrible agony.

THE CABINET.—Forney's Press states that there is not the slightest disagreement in the Cabinet. Some papers have raised a clamor against the Cabinet, because government refused to receive troops, when it is known that many came in such a hurry that they could not be provided for. The arrangements to receive troops are now better, and more than 70,000 have been accepted within three days. Arrangements for the increase of the navy, the increase of the army, the protection of the Mississippi, the vigorous enforcement of the blockade, and the protection of the Union men South, are conducted with a rapidity and efficiency that reflect the highest credit upon all concerned. Congress is animated by the same patriotic feeling. The band of secessionists in both Houses is growing smaller every day, and the true friends of the country are closing in a solid body around the Administration.

THE CASE OF THE RECAPTURED SCHOONER "S. J. WARING."—Full power of attorney has been conferred upon William C. Noyes, by William Tillman, Donald McLeod, and William Stedding, the steward and seamen of the recaptured schooner S. J. Waring—and Mr. Noyes is authorized to prosecute, in law, or equity, their claim for salvage against the vessel, her owners, and the owners of her cargo, to supply all lawful ways and means in their name for the recovery of such salvage; to compromise or settle the amount of such sums as may be owing to them, to discharge the vessel from liens, &c. Noyes is also empowered, with the joint advice of Moses H. Grinnell, to invest the sums which may come to Tillman, (the colored steward,) in some secure and permanent manner, so that the income may be received regularly in the manner best conducing to his best interests and those of his family, which power is irrevocable. The instrument is signed with the marks of the three men, and acknowledged by Steward L. Woodford as notary. This action was taken at the instance of the United States Marshal, who has been assiduous and successful in his efforts to protect them from sharpers and speculators.

Searching the Passengers.—We learn that the [illegible] the [illegible] a dress [illegible] her last trip with the Columbia. It appeared that a gentleman had his gold watch stolen on the [illegible] the boat connecting with the Carrie and the [illegible] and wishing to discover the whereabouts of said watch requested the captain to institute a search. He accordingly ordered [illegible] and at the command "watch" all hands turn their pockets inside out, and potlatch [illegible] watch, the first part was promptly complied with, but half watch! Of course they were all honest men

Arrived—Bark Industry Paul Corno master with the following memorandum and list of consignees. The Industry left San Francisco July 30th, in company with the barks Live Yankee and Glimpse, the former bound for this port and the latter for Puget Sound. Experienced strong head winds all the way up, arrived at Columbia River Bar on 18th but was unable to cross for two days on account of heavy fogs, crossed on 20th and arrived at this port yesterday. She had four cabin passengers

Consignees—A Coby & Co, 470 packages, Smith & Davis, J Kamm, M R [illegible] blatt, 71; Blumaur & Rosenblatt, 25; Richards & McCracken, 720; John West, 17; Kohn & Co, 283; Haas Bros, 60; H W Corbett, 20; M Mansfield, 40; Diamond L, 520; B & B, 220; Diamond M, 6; D Simon, 204; Hodge & Calef, 20; W Ellis 45; R H L & H, 55; E J Northrup, 136. Total—3 039 packages

Sent Up.—In the Recorder's Court yesterday morning Judge Risley committed J G Houston to the County Jail in default of $800 bonds which he was required to give to make his appearance at the next term of the Circuit Court, to answer to a charge preferred against him by Thos Mountain of stealing three pair of blankets from the steamer Cowlitz

Mr Knott requests us to say that it is untrue that he refused to furnish sufficient material to his builders, and thus caused the accident on Wednesday—as stated in one of the morning papers.

Mr. H Law is always able to furnish the celebrated Standard Mills flour. See advertisement.

Jacob Cohen, Watchmaker advertises to-day. Read it

The Advertiser of yesterday contains an argument a column in length designed to prove that the South are justified in their rebellion against the Government. The same paper expresses its wishes that Col Wright shall be made a Brigadier General, and enter upon field service in the theatre of war. Does the Advertiser want Col Wright to come under the fire of his rebel friends?

Oregon War Bonds.—The Oregon Bonds were printed at our last dates from Washington, and it was supposed that their issue would be commenced by the middle of the present month.

John W Anderson, of Lewis county, has been appointed sub-Indian Agent for the Indians at the mouth of the Quinaielt, north of Gray's Harbor

Sad Accident.—The Mountaineer states that Mr Charles H Elliott, book keeper of Messrs. Trevitt & Co, of that place, on Wednesday last met with a sad accident. He was pumping out spirits from a barrel, which took fire, communicated to his clothing and he was dreadfully burnt. We are glad to say, now, that he is out of danger

News from the South Fork.—John Creighton writes to the Mountaineer from South Clear Water, Aug 2d that "he had just got there, and found the best mines. Every hill, gulch, and flat will pay from ten dollars to—I am afraid to say how much per day, but yesterday, two men made $57 with a rocker, and while I am writing, a man has come in with a piece weighing $13. Every one at work is making at least an ounce a day. Oro Fino is nowhere. There are claims here for fifty thousand men. I have a claim that will pay $20 a day, and am getting it opened, so you may [illegible] that the mines are good when I go to work, but I must have some of it."

Summer Resort on the Coast.—Clatsop Beach is becoming a very fashionable summer resort for our people. Among the latest arrivals at "Latty's Hotel," near Tillamook Head, were Hon Judge E Hamilton, L Brook, Esq, Gov Tom Byrnes and lady, Capt Gouldinge and lady, Miss Mary Mountain, Miss Sallie Dobbins, Mrs Dr Steele and child, Miss Sarah Gray, Miss Mary Gray, Miss Ony Taylor, P C Schuyler, Jr, J M [illegible], Col J T Atwood, W W Thompson, G H Myers, Thos Neally, M S Burrell.

Bathing, hunting, fishing and riding are among the pleasures of the day, with dancing in the evening. Two elk, one hundred and twenty seven brook trout, three baskets clams, and two hundred and forty six soft shell crabs, were the result of one day's "sporting." We are indebted to Mr. Myers for some of the soft shell crabs

THE EMPEROR OF RUSSIA INSULTED.—The Emperor of Russia's position at present does not appear to be very enviable. It seems that when the Emperor Alexander entered the theatre at Moscow all the company quitted it, as if they obeyed a preconcerted signal. It is added that the Emperor's aid-de-camps were insulted by the crowd. But, what is still more serious, the insurrection among the peasants is extending every day, and is assuming alarming proportions. Hitherto the troops acted without hesitation against the insurgents, but fears as to their fidelity are now beginning to be entertained.

Commercial and Financial.

The San Francisco Evening Journal of the 14th, says:—"Trade to-day is quite active; considerable quantities of goods are being sent forward to the interior; there appears to be a disposition on the part of merchants to lay in a stock of liquors, in anticipation of an advance on present prices. The prices of nearly every description of goods remain firm at last quotations; the news that the duties on sugar, tea and coffee had been increased to 2c, 15c, and 4c, respectively, has given additional firmness in those articles; it is not probable, however, that there will be any material advance in the price of these articles, the market being well supplied, and the tariff does not go into effect at present."

No advance in bread-stuffs.

The following vessels cleared to-day, with breadstuffs: brig Sumner Cloud, for Sydney, with flour and wheat, valued at $42,250; ship Iconium, for Sydney, with wheat and flour, value, $35,000; and the Louise, for Geelong, with wheat, value, $11,740. The ship Abbott Lawrence, is loading with breadstuffs for Melbourne.

Legal Notice.

In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for Multnomah County. A. M. A. Blanchet, Complainant, vs. Oswald Travaillot, Defendant. In Chancery.

TO OSWALD TRAVAILLOT, Defendant: You are hereby notified that A. M. A. Blanchet has this day filed in my office his bill of complaint, and commenced a suit against you, in which he claims that on the tenth day of June, A. D. eighteen hundred and fifty-seven, you made and delivered to him a certain promissory note for the sum of six hundred dollars, payable ten months after date, with interest at the rate of two per cent. per month; that at the same time made, acknowledged and delivered a certain mortgage deed upon lots numbered three and four in block number three, in Couch's claim or addition to the City of Portland, in the county aforesaid, as security for the payment of said note; and complainant prays for a decree of foreclosure and for the sale of the said mortgaged premises to pay the amount due upon said mortgage, to-wit: The sum of six hundred dollars and interest as aforesaid since the twentieth of September, A. D. eighteen hundred and fifty-nine, and for a judgment against you for any balance which may remain unpaid after the application of the proceeds of the sale of said property for the payment of said debt; and you are further notified that unless you appear in the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for the County of Multnomah on the second Monday of November, A. D. 1861, and then and there answer the said bill of complaint, the same will be taken as confessed, and the prayer thereof will be granted by said Court.

JOHN C. BUTTERWORTH'S

CELEBRATED

CHEMICAL SOFT SOAP!

THE CHEAPEST, MOST ECONOMICAL AND LABOR-saving Soap ever discovered.

PATENTED OCTOBER, 1860.

This Soap recommends itself for the following reasons: It is not only the best soap in use for the washstand and the toilet, but it is by far the cheapest; washing is performed with half the labor required by other soaps; it removes all pitch, tar and grease from woollen and cotton goods; in a word, it is the great desideratum of the age.

☞ Put up in five and ten pound cans. Each can warranted to make sixty and one hundred and twenty pounds respectively.

Full directions for making accompany each can.

"This soap will work its way into every Laundry, Bath-room and Kitchen in the United States."—Pittsburgh Journal.

No family should be without Butterworth's Chemical Soap, as it is not only the best but the cheapest soap in use.—Boston Journal.

Remarkable Instance of Medical Relief.

Below we publish the certificates of three of the sufferers from the [illegible] of disease, who having recovered their former health, and impelled by gratitude, make known their cases and remedial agent, and their statements authenticated by a Notary Public. The defendants [illegible] their publicity, and we commend their perusal to the attention of all afflicted:

Certificate.—The undersigned, desirous of acquainting those who may be unfortunate enough to be similarly affected, where a permanent relief of their sufferings may be obtained, feels it his duty to thus publicly express his sincere gratitude to Dr. L. J. Czapkay, for the permanent recovery of his health. Borne down by the distressing symptoms incident to the vicious practices of uncontrollable passion in youth, depressed in body and mind, unable to perform even the most trifling duty imposed upon the ordinary avocations of life, I sought the advice of many physicians, who at first regarded my disease as of trifling importance—but, alas! after a few weeks, and in some instances months of their treatment, I found, to my unspeakable horror, that instead of relief, my symptoms became more alarming in their torture, and being told by one that my disease being principally confined to the brain, medicine would be of little consequence, I despaired of ever regaining my health, strength and energy; and as a last resort, and with but a faint hope, called upon Dr. Czapkay, who after examining my case, prescribed some medicine which almost instantly relieved me of the dull pain and dizziness in my head. Encouraged by the result, I resolved to place myself immediately under his care, and by a strict obedience to all his directions and advice, my mind became clear, and my ideas collected; the constant pain in my back and groins, the weakness of my limbs, the nervous reaction of my whole system at the slightest alarm or excitement, the misanthropy and evil forebodings, the self distrust and want of confidence in others, the incapacity to study and want of resolution, the frightful, exciting, and at times pleasurable dreams at night, followed by involuntary discharges, have all disappeared, and in fact, in two months after having consulted the doctor, I felt as if inspired by a new life—that life which but a short time ago I contemplated to end by my own hands. With the view to guard the unfortunate from falling into the snares of quacks, I deem it my duty to offer this testimony to the merit and skill of Dr. Czapkay, and recommend him to all who may stand in need of medical advice, being assured by my own experience, that under his care a radical and permanent cure will be effected.

State of California, County of San Francisco:
Subscribed and sworn to before me this seventh day of April, A. D. 1860. Signed,
[L.S.] JOHN MIDDLETON, Notary Public.

MARYSVILLE, June 2d, 1860.

DR. L. J. CZAPKAY, San Francisco—Sir: I have used the last of your medicine, and do not think I shall need any more, as I feel very well except that I have not entirely got my strength yet, but soon will, as the appetite I have. It is just three weeks, you may recollect, since I called at your institute, with my constitution, as I thought, broken entirely, and never thought you would be able to cure me perfectly, but thought you might be able to do something to ease the pain in my back and head, and strengthen my nerves so that I would not get excited and tremble at everything. Now that you know what I expected, you may judge of my satisfaction at my complete recovery from all symptoms, and the removal of those sores and blotches from my skin, and the ulcers from my throat, and the stoppage of those emissions, which you said were principally the cause of my sickness. I can hardly tell you which is the greatest, my joy or my surprise, for except not having yet got my strength, I feel as well as any man can feel.

Enclosed I send you twenty dollars over your charge, as I think myself cheaply cured. If you think anybody will be benefited, you may put this letter in the newspapers. Believe me gratefully yours,

THOMAS HAYDEN.

Thankfulness is the incentive to gratitude.

CERTIFICATE.—Prompted by an honest desire of my heart, I wish to lay before the public a case which deserves commendation, not only as an act of scientific skill, but that of humanity also. About two years ago, I suddenly, and by causes unknown to me, was seized with a fit of epilepsy, which owing to my inability to meet the expenses consequent upon a thorough medical treatment, and the discouragement which I met with on attempting it, soon became such I was then led to believe, as to defy the skill of any physician. I was frequently, while in pursuit of my calling, thrown down to the ground without the slightest warning, and although insensible to the agonies, I yet despised the misery of my life, and soon learned to look upon those who would render assistance or shelter me from danger as enemies who sought to prolong the existence of my misery. While in this state, and having previous to my affliction tasted the sweets of life, I once more was induced to try and seek the aid of a physician, and by recommendation, called upon Dr. L. J. Czapkay. I told him of my circumstances and of my inability to reward him for his services; regardless of which, however, he at once undertook my case, and with the blessing of God I was once more restored to perfect health. Unable to reward him for the boon which I enjoy at present, and yet conscious of my indebtedness, I consider it due to myself and all afflicted, to make the case public, in order that those in need of medical advice may find a physician in whom every confidence can be placed.
